Anna, Joe –

We are looking to discuss if Hartz is going to continue to support registrations for their TCVP pet products. We will send a number for the teleconference.

Trish,

I have left a message and am following up with this email. Sorry for the delayed response but our offices are closed and I am working from my home and have had a number of calls and meetings today. Please arrange a conference call for tomorrow April 24 at 1:30pm as proposed by your email. Can you advise me in more detail about the nature of the discussion including the EPA personnel who will be on the call. The Hartz team including Dr. Driver who has been working with us on this project on the call for the past 3 years will also participate. Based on the agenda our inside counsel can participate on the call but if the discussion will be technical in nature he will not participate. Please give me a call to discuss to let me know if there is any information we need to have available for our discussion. My cell number is Ex. 6 PP – personal phone

Dear Anna, Joe –

As indicated by the data evaluation records that we sent on February 6, 2020, the agency has reviewed and accepted the information that Hartz provided in response to the for TCVP. Use of this additional information has indicated that there are still potential risks of concern with some Hartz pet products containing TCVP.

The Ninth Circuit Court has issued a decision to the petition from NRDC that was filed against the agency last summer and the agency will have to respond to the Court. We would like to schedule a call to speak with you either this afternoon or tomorrow regarding Hartz's pet products. Please let us know which of the proposed times below work best for you:

- Today, April 23 at 2:00 pm eastern standard time
- Tomorrow: Friday, April 24 at 1:30 pm eastern standard time

Regards,
Trish
